Journal of Contemporary Studies

Dear Contributors,

The Journal of Contemporary Studies (JCS) is now accepting submissions for Winter 2021 Issue. Research scholars who wish to contribute their original, unpublished articles and book reviews to the Journal may submit these by September 30, 2021.

About JCS: The Journal of contemporary studies (JCS) is the flagship publication of the Faculty of Contemporary Studies, National Defence University, Islamabad. As a biannual, double blind peer-reviewed journal, JCS was initiated in 2012 with an objective of advancing critically-oriented academic and intellectual discourse over issues of contemporary significance. The Journal is now indexed and abstracted in International Political Science Abstracts (IPSA), France, Bibliography of Asian Studies (BAS) and EBSCOhost (USA). It is recognised by the Higher Education Commission (HEC) of Pakistan as a “y” Category Journal.

Scope: The Journal largely focuses on and solicits academically grounded research articles dealing with contemporary issues in the field of international relations, strategic studies, public policy, governance, human resource development and peace and conflict studies. Preference shall be given to articles with in-depth scholarly analysis and diverse policy perspectives.

Guidelines for Contributors

Submission Deadline: Last date for the submissions is September 30, 2021.

Ethical concerns: Manuscripts submitted for JCS should be original and not submitted anywhere else. Once accepted for publishing after peer review, the articles cannot be withdrawn. Ideas, statements and texts taken from other sources must be cited and referenced. JCS has a zero-tolerance policy on plagiarism.

Length of Submissions: Papers/articles should not be longer than 7000 words or less than 5500 words, with an abstract of about 120-150 words. Reviews of recent books may comprise 1100-1200 words. Figures and tables should be aligned within text.

Writing Style & Referencing: Language used must be academic and ideas need to be well-organised and structured. British spelling should be followed. Also, the articles need to be formatted and well-referenced as per the ethical guidelines.

Footnotes should be based on The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition. For details on writing style and referencing, please see the detailed Guidelines for Contributors on the website and Chicago Manual respectively.

Submissions not based on Guidelines for Contributors will not be accepted.
