Workshop On High Performance Team Culture

22nd - 23rd August, 2017

Venue: CIIT, ISLAMABAD

Enterprise Culture is the most crucial value for high-performance teams. As a matter of fact, culture serves as the invisible building which harbors and nurtures the group effect, thereby building teams which realize the impossible. Organization leaders have to design and implement strategies that may empower their teams to put the best of their abilities in difficult circumstances. Companies of international repute are eager to hire those managers who would champion in the market through developing high performing teams. Therefore the task of leaders of today has become far more challenging and complex. Leading efficient teams comprising highly motivated people is the crucial challenge for the future business leaders.

Our 2-day program aims at training the managers to cope up with challenges of the future market. Using illustrative case studies prepared at top business schools of the world, the program will expose the participants to crucial decision scenarios followed by interactive exercises, thus educating them how successful international organizations are addressing those circumstances.
