

TEACH FOR PAKISTAN – VIRTUAL RECRUITMENT EVENT

Teach for Pakistan provides our nation's top graduates the opportunity and support to teach for two years in low-income communities through a structured Fellowship, and develop the skills and convictions to lead education reform from across the social and economic systems. Teach For Pakistan is a partner in the Teach For All global network of 59+ independent, national organizations working to expand educational outcomes for children all over the world.

Teach For Pakistan is hosting a virtual recruitment event this Friday, 22nd April from 8 pm onwards. The event is a conversation with a Teach For Pakistan student, Sadaf Yasmeen. This is an excellent opportunity to learn about the impact of the Teach For Pakistan program in the two years of the Fellowship and beyond for the students and Alumni who are a part of the program.

Sadaf Yasmeen is currently in her third year at LUMS completing her undergraduate degree in Biology. She is also working as a researcher in the Epigenetics Lab, LUMS. Sadaf was taught by two Teach For Pakistan Fellows, Badar Muneer and Hassan Yar Bareach for two years. During the session, we will learn about Sadaf's experience of learning in a Teach For Pakistan classroom and her educational journey after her teachers' Fellowship ended.

To attend the event, please fill out the form below:

<https://www.tfaforms.com/4980547>

You will receive a Zoom link via email by 12 am, 22nd April 2022.

IN CONVERSATION WITH A TEACH FOR PAKISTAN STUDENT

Sadaf Yasmeen was a student in 2013 Fellows Badar Munir and Hassan Yar Bareach's classroom. She is currently in her third year at LUMS completing her undergraduate degree in Biology.

Join the session to learn about Sadaf's experience in a Teach For Pakistan classroom and her educational journey beyond that.

 22nd April, 2022

 8:00 pm - 9:00 pm

Sign up for the session using the link in the description.

Flip The Script.

Apply to the Fellowship:
www.iteachforpakistan.org